THEME: PEACEBUILDERS

What does peace look like?

How do I handle conflict?

Living a life of peace takes courage.

Throughout this week long camp, your child will learn about notable peacemakers in history and the actions they made to take a stand for their beliefs. Theater will be integrated into this portion of the camp as they choose a peacemaker to “become” for a day.

Students will also explore conflict resolution skills through active cooperative games and role playing activities.

Dates: July 9 – 13, 2012
Time: 9:00 a.m. – 12:00pm
Cost: $125
Available for Grades: 1-3

THEME: WORLDLY ART

What influenced the art of the ancient Aztecs and Incas?

What resources did they have to create artwork?

Does art serve any practical purposes?

During this week long art camp, your child will travel around the world and throughout time to answer questions like these. History will come alive as students create artwork from South America, Asia, Africa, Europe, and the United States. Hands-on 3D, crafts will allow students to experience a variety of media as they replicate art around the world.

Dates: June 16 – July 20, 2012
Time: 9:00 a.m. – 12:00pm
Cost: $125
Available for Grades: 1-3

Meet the Teacher: Nancy Lynn

Nancy Lynn is currently the upper elementary teacher at Friends School of Charlotte, bringing over 10 years of educational studies and teaching experience. Nancy has previously taught fifth grade students in two public schools - at Deale Elementary School in Deale, MD, a suburb of Annapolis, MD, and at Dilworth Visual and Performing Arts School in Charlotte. Nancy graduated cum laude from the University of Maryland with a bachelor's degree of science in Elementary Education with an emphasis in Mathematics. As a student of Thomas G. Pullen Visual and Performing Arts Magnet School for 9 years, Nancy received a well-rounded education that integrated fine arts, dance, music, and theater. Throughout her teaching experience, Nancy has demonstrated a passion in integrating academics, the arts, and technology to allow students to develop into life-long learners who are fueled by their own unique strengths and interests. Nancy is excited to share her educational and work background to enhance the experiences of the students, staff, and parents at FSC.
